CESAB

More than a third of industrial accidents are caused by manually handling loads*

Protect your staff and your business starting from just £24.99 per week.

Manual handling is the biggest cause of musculoskeletal injuries in the workplace, with these kind of injuries accounting for 44% of all work-related ill health (HSE/Labour Force Survey 2015). It isn't unusual to see hand pallet trucks in regular use, with operators using their arms, backs and legs to manoeuvre a hand pallet truck around a workplace without realising just how much strain they're placing on their bodies.

Whatever your market place is, from retail to wholesale, manufacturing to distribution, CESAB offer a range of powered pallet trucks with capacities from 1.3 to 2.5 tonne and a choice of configurations to let you tailor the trucks to your specific needs.
